FREAR GIVES WAIKAEKA PLANS

Following the news in the Star-Bulletin, during Secretary of the Interior Fisher's trip on the island of Hawaii, through a dispatch from Hilo, that Governor Frear proposed opening lands on the Waikaeke plantation near Hilo for settlement, to permit that city to expand, comes the announcement by the executive of his plans for action in the affair.

He has written a letter to the officials of the plantation, discussing the arrangements for the proposed opening of the lands and expects an answer by Saturday concurring in his views and agreeing to definite plans which may be fulfilled within the very near future.

Representatives of the plantation told Secretary Fisher they were willing some of these lands, adjoining Hilo, should be opened for settlement, and the building up of the residence section of that city entered upon, and since the secretary's departure F. M. Swanzy, managing director of The Davies & Co., agents for Waikaeke plantation, has reiterated the sentiment in an article published by the Hawaii Herald of October 4.

CHRISTMAS-MID-PACIFIC WILL BE HANDSOME

Alexander Hume Ford is planning to produce a Christmas magazine that will make the mainland publications look to Honolulu as their leader. The Christmas Mid-Pacific will contain nearly 200 page cuts in double-toned sepia ink on the finest cameo stock paper. The effect will be that of an album of Hawaiian and Pacific photographs.

The commercial houses, as well as the Promotion committee have taken kindly to the big project of the Mid-Pacific magazine and thousands of extra copies have been ordered by them for distribution both at home and on the mainland.

Nearly every firm in Honolulu will be represented pictorially in the advertising pages of the Christmas Mid-Pacific, says Mr. Ford, and it is declared that the magazine will make an excellent Christmas souvenir.
